

OVATION FOR STROTHER

Accquitted Lawyer Accorded Warm Welcome on Return Home.

HAD TO SHAKE HANDS WITH MANY

Wife Came in for Her Share of Hearty Demonstration—Expresses Gratification at Being at West Virginia Home Again.

WELCH, W. VA., March 11.—From the time the train left Culpeper Courtthouse, Va., Saturday, until it reached the Norfolk & Western passenger station here yesterday morning, James A. Strother was the recipient of more attention from the people along the line of travel than any gentleman who has made the trip in years.

At almost every station people who knew he was aboard came forward to shake his hand and speak words of encouragement to him, but it remained for his home people here at Welch to give him such an ovation as he has never before received, and in a pouring rain he stood with bare head and shook the hands of hundreds of friends who had come to bid him welcome.

Mrs. Strother came in for her share of the welcome also. James A. Strother is beloved by all who know him, and every man, woman and child in the town and country claim him as a friend in the truest sense of the word. He was much affected and through tears expressed his gratification at being home again.

A great many people were under the impression that Phillip Strother would accompany his brother to Welch, but they were doomed to disappointment, as he will remain in charge of the plantation at Rotherwood, the old Strother homestead.

Mr. Strother's Statement.

James A. Strother said: "I am truly glad to be at home again, and now that the trouble is over I never had any doubt of the ultimate outcome of the trial and I have nothing but the kindest feeling for the newspapers and their representatives, who were present and reported the same.
"I am also much indebted to my friends who rallied to my cause so nobly and to the many who attended from Welch. I have nothing but a feeling of the greatest gratitude. As you see by this pile of letters and telegrams I have much to do in the way of correspondence ere I can settle down to active work.

"Yes, I expect to answer every letter and telegram you see there and it is a pleasant duty I assure you."

All of Sunday afternoon and evening and the early hours of today Mr.
Strother's office has been besieged with callers and he has been busy shaking hands with all who called.

There is no man in this section who has as many friends as he and everybody is pleased with the verdict of the Virginia jury in the case and if by kindness can do anything to aid their distinguished friend and citizen to eliminate from his mind the sad happenings of the last few months, will to a man be glad to do it.

Mr. Strother is in splendid health and will at once resume his law practice in this State.

Five Thousand Pounds of Documentary Records on Hand for Indiana Rebate Trial

CHICAGO, ILL., March 11.—Two and one-half tons of documentary evidence will be the contribution of one witness to the mass of testimony to be submitted by the government during the trial of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, charged with accepting railroad rebates.

This became known today when W. T. Aylesbury, joint car accountant for the Three Bridge Ferry and Terminal companies of St.

BACKACHE

"I wrote you for advice," writes Lelia Hagood, of Sylvia, Tenn., "about my terrible backache and monthly pains in my abdomen and shoulders. I had suffered this way nine years and five doctors had failed to relieve me. On your advice I took Wine of Cardui, which at once relieved my pains and now I am entirely cured. I am sure that Cardui saved my life."

It is a safe and reliable remedy for all female diseases, such as periodical pains, irregularity, dragging down sensations, headache, dizziness, backache, etc.

Louis, was excused from the stand in order that he might verify personally the abstracts of evidence he had produced in court with original records and files of his office, which he was instructed to bring with him when he returned to Chicago to resume his testimony.

During the direct testimony Mr.
Aylesbury declared the original documents were contained in 500 boxes, the dimensions of which were uniformly 36x24 inches. Thousands of documents, he said, were used in making up these records. The record purport to show the number of cars delivered to the three St. Louis terminal companies, the name of the railroad delivering them, and their disposition. Aside from the evidence sought from the St. Louis terminal companies the government has approximately forty thousand documents bearing on the trial which it will attempt to make a part of the prosecution.
